PATTERSON WINS PRIZE

He Is Nominated for Senator by the Fusion Caucus.

AFTER THOMAS WITHDRAWS

Legislature Will Undoubtedly Ratify Caucus Action Patterson Forces Celebrate Victory.

Denver, Jan. 14.—The caucus of the fusion members of the legislature tonight nominated Thomas M. Patterson of Denver for the United States senate to succeed Senator E. O. Wolcott. He received 53 out of 54 votes in the caucus.

Denver, Jan. 14.—Governor Thomas this evening announced his withdrawal from the race for the United States senatorship. This leaves T. M. Patterson master of the situation.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Jan. 14.—Hon. T. M. Patterson was selected as the fusion nominee for U. S. senator on the first ballot in the fusion caucus in the house of representatives tonight.

During the afternoon Hon. Charles S. Thomas, after learning that he could not obtain the nomination, sent for Mr. Patterson and an arrangement was made whereby Mr. Thomas withdrew entirely from the contest. His name was not presented to the caucus at all. The result, while it comes as an ac-

Mr. Thomas and his friends has been expected by those who were on the inside for the past 10 days. At no time did the Patterson people show the least anxiety except during the 24 hours preceding today noon. During those hours the Thomas boom seemed to have power enough to probably win the contest, but it afterwards proved to be only their last struggle before their power diminished. While those whose support has been given to Mr. Thomas are disappointed, they are as a rule accepting their defeat in the true spirit and are not openly saying anything that will cause bitterness.

The caucus tonight was completely executive. At time, factional strife would appear, but in nearly every instance it was the outcome of the Silver Republicans, who were trying to force an informal ballot in order that they might cast a complimentary ballot for their candidate, Mr. Blood. The first ballot cast tonight resulted as follows: Patterson 74, Hughes 7, Shafroth 1, Blood 6. The following men voted for Hughes: J. D. Adams, Cole Briscoe, Copp, Hallett, Jefferson, Lyttle, Lubers. The following voted for Blood: Ammons, Bartells, Cannon, Insley, Newell.

Shortly after Senator Hill was elected, he announced himself as favoring Congressman Shafroth for U. S. senator. True to his pledge he alone voted for the congressman tonight, Senator Buckley was absent and did not vote. Aside from those named the rest of the votes were cast for Mr. Patterson. Upon motion duly seconded the vote was then made unanimous. The announcement of his election elicited but little applause. The members quickly gathered together their individual ballot sheets and left the room. Inside of 15 minutes the capitol building was completely deserted.

The Patterson forces had a band on the capitol and at the adjournment of the meeting they proceeded to escort Mr. Patterson and his followers to the Albany hotel, where an informal reception was held. By the time the hotel was reached there was a crowd of about 800 people in the wake of the band. Mr. Patterson at last succeeded in getting to the balcony of the second floor, where he made an informal talk, thanking all who had helped him to the honorable position. His talk was a plea for harmony among the fusion ranks. He closed as follows:

"Let this be a time for rejoicing. Let it also be a time for our reunion. Let us lay aside whatever differences may have existed in the past and let us from now on unite against McKinley, boss rule, monopolists and trusts. Let us work together to keep Colorado in line for Bryan and silver."

Speaker Montgomery made a short talk in which he congratulated the people upon having elected the Stephen A. Douglas of Colorado to represent us in the United States senate. He closed by saying: "I feel that with our actions tonight the Democratic party in Colorado has crossed the Rubicon and is now on dry land. With our new leader leading us in the United States senate, I do not fear but what victory will always crown our banner."

The crowd, led by Representative Hammond proceeded from the Albany hotel to the different newspaper offices where serenades were held. At 12 o'clock tonight the band is still out.

The events during the past 24 hours which led up to Mr. Patterson's election served to keep both sides very anxious. The announcement in the morning paper that Governor Orman would not take sides was hard to print, and until Governor Thomas and Harry Lee issued a statement saying that the governor had promised Thomas his support, Governor Orman would neither affirm nor deny either rumor.

The contending factions had planned to hold separate caucuses at two o'clock this afternoon. When both caucuses were called together it is reported that Mr. Patterson had 58 while but 28 were at the Thomas caucus. The remainder were unpledged and refused to attend either caucus. Governor Thomas realized that many of those to whom he had looked had deserted him at the eleventh hour and that it was useless to continue the fight. He immediately sent for Mr. Patterson and the agreement whereby he was to withdraw was reached. The scenes that followed the announcement of Mr. Thomas' determination to withdraw when Mr. Patterson returned to his headquarters in the Albany cannot be described. Those who had clung to the western editor for the past five to 25 years fairly wept for joy. Hardly had the announcement been made before telephone messages and telegrams began pouring in. They have continued all the afternoon and evening.

President of the senate, Coates called the joint caucus together tonight at eight o'clock and Speaker Montgomery read the call. The speaker then moved that the house be thrown open to reporters and spectators. The motion brought forth a storm of opposition from the minority faction. After some 15 minutes wrangling that at times promised to become uncontrollable, the speaker withdrew his motion, and the caucus was held executively. Mr. Montgomery then moved that the temporary organization be made official. This motion raised a storm of protest and the speaker was finally compelled to change the word official to permanent. During this discussion Senator Garcia got very much wrought up. During the speech he spoke of the majority faction wanting the earth and acted as though they were going to have it. Joel W. Smith wanted to know about the Adams and Patterson combination, but his question remained unanswered. The greatest wrangle of the evening was over a motion by Mr. Cannon of Arapahoe to the effect that the roll be informal. Mr. Cannon said there were many silver Republicans present who wanted to give a complimentary vote to Mr. Blood. The majority people feared an informal ballot so they opposed it. During the discussion Senators Parks and Newell got very personal. Newell wanted to cast a vote for Mr. Blood. Parks arose and in a very loud voice proclaimed that Mr. Patterson had been the best friend the Silver Republicans had ever had in Colorado, and when those who claimed to be Silver Republicans voted against him they were betraying a friend. The motion for an informal ballot was voted down and the roll call resulted in the ballot as stated above.

Colorado's Electoral Vote.

The Colorado members of the electoral college met at noon today and cast their votes for William J. Bryan for president and Adlai E. Stevenson for vice president. As stated in today's Gazette Charles J. Hughes, one of the electors is very sick. The remaining three members selected his son Gerald Hughes to vote in his father's place. Four copies of the official vote were prepared. Each of these copies was sealed with the state seal. One of the four was sent by messenger to Postmaster Twombley to send to the secretary of state in Washington by registered letter. Another was given to Judge Hallett of the United States district court to be sent by him to the president of the United States senate. The other two were sent by special messenger to the secretary of state at Washington and to the president of the United States senate. J. H. Robeson secured the contract of delivering in person the two last named copies.

THOMAS M. PATTERSON.

(By Associated Press.)

Denver, Jan. 14.—Thomas M. Patterson was born in November, 1840. With his parents he came to America in 1853. After a short residence in New York the family removed to Crawfordsville, Ind., where Thomas worked for some time as a printing office. He was educated in Asbury (now De Pauw) university. He enlisted at the first call for troops in 1861, but served only a few months on account of ill health. He read law and practiced his profession for a time in Indiana. In 1872 he came to Denver and formed a partnership with Hon. Charles S. Thomas, who, it is interesting to note, was his leading opponent in the senatorial contest just closed. This partnership lasted a year, but was resumed in 1879 and continued until 1890. In 1874 Mr. Patterson was chosen territorial delegate to congress and greatly aided in securing statehood for Colorado. In 1878 he was sent back to congress this time as a representative. At the end of his term Mr. Patterson resumed the practice of law in Denver. In 1890 he purchased a controlling interest in the Rocky Mountain News—for the control of which he has since very largely devoted his time. In 1892 Mr. Patterson was a delegate to the national Democratic convention, in which he made a strong fight for the adoption of a free silver plank. Being unsuccessful, he led the bolt against Cleveland, which carried the state for Weaver. In 1896 he was a delegate to the Populist national convention which indorsed Bryan and in 1900 he was permanent chairman of the convention of that party. It is understood that he now considers himself a Democrat. Mr. Patterson in 1863 was married to Miss Kate Grafton, a granddaughter of Alexander Campbell, the founder of the Christian church. They have one daughter, Mrs. R. C. Campbell, of Denver.

HURRICANE AT MAURITIUS.

Port Louis, Island of Mauritius, Jan. 14.—A hurricane swept over this island Jan. 12 and during the storm a number of vessels were driven ashore. Among them the French steamer Iraouaddy, (from Marseilles Dec. 10 for Mauritius,) which had a hole stove in her bottom, and the British steamer Muttra (from Calcutta Nov. 30 for Colombo and Mauritius.) The others were smaller craft. The damage to the island was not serious.

QUAY ON THE FIRST BALLOT

This Is Generally Looked For in Pennsylvania.

THE DEMOCRATS NAME GUFFY

Joint Republican Caucus Declarer for Quay and First Ballot is Expected to Be Final.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 14.—There is every indication that the bitter struggle for United States senator will terminate tomorrow with the election of M. S. Quay, the nominee of the Fusionist Republican caucus. The Democrats will vote for Colonel James Guffy, of Pittsburg, and the anti-Quay Republicans are expected to distribute their votes among several "favorite sons." There is nothing to indicate tonight that there will not be an election on the first ballot or that there will be another deadlock, similar to that of 1899 when the legislature adjourned after taking 79 ballots without making a choice. National Committeeman James Guffey of Pittsburg was tonight unanimously nominated for United States senator by the joint caucus of the Democrats of the house and senate. The calling of the roll showed 10 members absent. Most of the absentees were reported to be sick.

Senator Penrose, who is assisting Colonel Quay in the direction of his campaign said tonight:

"On the evening preceding the senatorial contest, its is becoming stronger every hour that Quay will be elected on the first ballot in the senate and in the house by a much larger majority than was expected by even his most sanguine friends. The opposition has gone to pieces as was expected in the beginning. Fusion on an insurgent Republican or on a Democrat has been utterly impracticable."

FILIPINOS AT GUAM.

Naval Forces to be Entrusted With Their Safe Keeping.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Secretary Root said today that all the Filipino insurgents placed in the custody of the naval forces in control of that island, who could be [illegible] have been released and safe keeping. He said he had no idea of the number of such prisoners, but did not believe that it was large enough to necessitate any increase in the naval force for guard or any other duty in connection with their captivity.

IDAHO LEGISLATURE.

Boise, Idaho, Jan. 14.—The second week of the session of the legislature opened with more activity in both houses. Tomorrow at noon the two houses will ballot in separate sessions for United States senator. There does not appear any doubt that Fred T. Dubois, former senator from this state will be elected. There is some opposition to him among the fusionists but it does not appear sufficient to break his lines. There has been a great [illegible] enough of the disaffected to vote for other men to prevent an election on joint ballot. So far as known this has not been successful. But the forces are still working vigorously and possibly may accomplish something before the ballot is taken.

The three presidential electors of the state met at noon today and cast their ballots for William J. Bryan for president and Adlai E. Stevenson for vice president. Samuel J. Rich was selected to carry the returns to Washington.

PROF. HOWARD RESIGNS.

Stanford University, Cala., Jan. 14.—The recent dismissal of Dr. Ross, professor of economics from the Stanford university had a sequel today in the resignation of Prof. George E. Howard, head of the department of history. It will be recalled that during the Ross incident Prof. Howard took a strong stand in Ross' behalf, asserting that his dismissal was due to corporate influence. His expressions were allowed to pass unnoticed by the university management until today when President David Starr Jordan addressed a letter to Dr. Howard requesting a satisfactory apology for what he (Dr. Jordan) considered breach of courtesy and to give such assurance of his attitude towards the management of the university as would contribute to a proper harmonious relation in the future. Failing this, he was asked to tender his resignation to take effect at the end of the current year or sooner. Prof. Howard promptly answered that he would be unwilling to remain under the present management and asked that his resignation take effect at once. Prof. Howard is one of the oldest members of the Stanford faculty.

RUSSIAN SNOW SUFFERERS.

London, Jan. 15.—The Odessa correspondent of the Daily Mail giving details of the expected loss of the railway passengers who were snowbound while on the way to Odessa says:

"All the trains have now arrived here. The drifts have hardened to the consistency of ice and in one case a tunnel had to be cut through a drift 300 yards long and thirty-eight feet deep. Many passengers who attempted to walk here were found by sleighing parties frozen to death."

CHICAGO'S NIGHT SALOONS.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—The city council tonight refused to adopt an amendment to the midnight saloon closing law making the hour for closing at 1 a. m. The vote was sufficiently strong in favor of the measure however to insure the passage at the next meeting of Mayor Harrison's ordinance repealing the old law and enacting one permitting all night saloons to be operated under more rigid police supervision.

CUBAN TOWN BURNED.

Santiago de Cuba, Jan. 14, via Haytien cable.—Banes, a small town on the railroad between Gibara and Holguin was destroyed by fire this morning. Some 15 houses and warehouses were burned. The Banes Fruit company, an American concern, had been employing almost the entire population of the town and a large quantity of fruit and tobacco was in the warehouses. There was no insurance on the property.

BRITISH CASUALTIES

London, Jan. 15.—The official list of British casualties in the recent fighting at Belfast shows 20 killed, 53 wounded and 72 missing. This does not account for the British losses at other points of simultaneous attack by the Boers, namely, Wonderfontein, Nordgedacht and Wildfontein and shows that affairs in that quarter were more serious than Lord Kitchener reported them to be.

NEELY MUST BE SENT BACK

Important Decision Rendered by the Supreme Court.

CUBA FOREIGN TERRITORY

But Congress Had Full Power to Legislate in Furtherance of the National Purpose in Cuba.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The United States supreme court today announced its decision in the case of C. W. F. Neely, charged with embezzlement of the public funds of Cuba while acting as financial agent of the department of posts of that island, holding, that Neely is subject to extradition.

Justice Harlan handed down the court's opinion which was unanimous, and immediately after the opinion was concluded an order was issued requiring that the mandate in the case be issued at once.

The opinion embraced a complete review of the case, explaining Neely's crime and arrest and his effort to prevent extradition to Cuba. The opinion also detailed the laws relating to extradition and quoted the act of June 6, 1900, extending the provisions of section 5270 of the revised statutes to foreign countries which is "occupied by or under the control of the United States" so as to make the law cover among other crimes, embezzlement in such countries. Relating that the circuit court of the southern district of New York to which an application for a writ of habeas corpus had been made, had rendered a decision adverse to Neely's claims, Justice Harlan said that when appealed to this court on the ground that the act of June 6, 1900, was unconstitutional. Entering then upon his reasoning in the case, Justice Harlan said that there was no dispute that on the 6th of June, 1900, when the act under which this proceeding is brought, became a law Cuba was "under the control of the United States and occupied by this government." "The court," he said, "will take judicial notice that such were, at the date named and are now, the relations between this country and Cuba. So that the applicability of the above act to the present case—and this is the first question to be examined—depends upon the inquiry whether, within its meaning, Cuba is to be deemed a foreign country or territory."

Continuing, he said: "We do not think this question at all difficult of solution if regard be had to the avowed objects intended to be accomplished by the war with Spain and by the military occupation of that island."

Justice Harlan then reviewed the legislation preceding the war with Spain, quoting the joint resolution of April 20, 1898, and the declaration of war which followed on the 25th of the same month. The protocol between the United States and Spain and the Paris treaty was reviewed for the purpose of showing not only the relation of the United States to Cuba, but Spain's relinquishment of sovereignty over the island. Notice was taken of the established Cuba and Gen. Brooke's proclamation of January 1, 1899, was quoted. The justice then referred to the governor's establishment of various departments in order to promote the civil government of the island. He also called attention to the promulgation of the postal code superseding all other postal laws relating to postal affairs and related that on the 13th of June last [illegible] upon the president for Neely.

Announcing the court's conclusions on the status of Cuba, Justice Harlan said: "The facts above detailed make it clear that Cuba is foreign territory within the meaning of the act of June 6, 1900. It cannot be regarded in any constitutional, legal or international sense a part of the territory of the United States. When by the act of April 25, 1898, war was declared between this country and Spain, the president was directed and empowered to use our entire land and naval forces as well as the militia of the several states to such an extent as was necessary to carry the act into effect, that authorization was not for the purpose of making Cuba an integral part of the United States, but for the purpose only of compelling the relinquishment by Spain of its authority and government in that island, and the withdrawal of its forces from these and Cuban waters. The legislative and executive branches of the government by the joint resolution of April 20, 1898, expressly disclaimed any purpose to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over Cuba except for the pacification thereof and asserted the determination of the United States that object being accomplished, to leave the government and control of Cuba to its own people. All that has been done in relation to Cuba has had that end in view and so far as the court is informed by the public history of the relations of this country with that island, nothing has been done inconsistent with the declared object of the war with Spain.

Cuba is none the less foreign territory within the meaning of the act of congress because it is under a military governor appointed by and representing the president in the work of assisting the inhabitants of that island to establish a government of their own under which as a free and independent people they may control their own affairs without interference by other nations. The occupancy of the island by troops of the United States was the necessary result of the war. That result could not have been avoided by the United States consistently with the principles of international law or with its obligations to the people of Cuba. It is true that as between Spain and the United States, indeed as between the United States and all foreign nations, Cuba upon the cessation of hostilities with Spain and after the treaty of Paris, was thus treated as if it were conquered territory. But, as between the United States and Cuba, that island is territory held to govern for the inhabitants of Cuba, to whom it rightfully belongs and to whose exclusive control it will be surrendered when a stable government shall have been established by their voluntary action.

Powers of Congress.

The court also outlined the power of congress to legislate in the premises, saying:

"It cannot be doubted that when the United States required and enforced the relinquishment by Spain of her sovereignty in Cuba and determined to occupy and control the island until there was complete tranquility in all its borders, and until the people of Cuba had created for themselves a stable government, it succeeded to the authority of the displaced government so far at least that it became its duty under international law and pending the pacification of the island to protect in all appropriate modes the lives, the liberty and the property of all those who submitted to the authority of the [illegible] power of congress to make all laws necessary and proper for carrying into execution as well as the powers enumerated in Section 8, Article 1 of the Constitution, all others vested in the government of the United States, or in any department or the offices therefor. [illegible] legislation as is appropriate to give efficacy to any stipulations which it is [illegible] with the advice and consent of the senate to make with a foreign power. What legislation by congress could be more appropriate for the protection of life and property in Cuba, while occupied and controlled by the United States, than legislation securing the return to that island, to be tried by its constituted authorities, of those who, having committed crimes there, flee to this country to escape arrest, trial and punishment? No crime is mentioned in the extradition act of June 6, 1900, that does not have relation to the safety of life and property. And the provisions of that act requiring the surrender of any public officer, employe or depositary fleeing to the United States after having committed in a foreign country or territory occupied by or under the control of the United States the crime of embezzlement or criminal malversation of the public funds, have especial application to Cuba in its present relation to this country."

The court declined, Justice Harlan stated, to enter upon the question as to what the obligations of the United States would have been in the matter of protecting life and property in Cuba if not required to do so by the obligations of the treaty of Paris.

"That question," he said, "is not open on this record for examination and upon it we express no opinion. It is quite sufficient in this case to adjudge, as we do, that it was competent for congress by legislation to enforce on our citizens to the provisions of the treaty made by the United States and Spain with respect to Cuba and its people."

Replying to another contention of Neley's counsel, the opinion says that "when an American citizen commits a crime in a foreign country he cannot complain if required to submit to such modes of trial and to such punishment as the laws of that country may prescribe for its own people unless a different mode be provided for by treaty stipulations between that country and the United States."

It was also argued on behalf of Neely that as peace now exists in Cuba and has existed there since the Spanish forces evacuated the island, the occupancy and control of that island under the military authority of the United States is without warrant in the Constitution and is an unauthorized interference with the internal affairs of a friendly power, and that consequently the appellant should not be extradited for trial in the courts established under the orders issued by the military governor of the island. In support of this proposition it was said that the United States recognized the existence of the republic of Cuba and the war with Spain was carried on jointly by the allied forces of the United States and of that republic.

Replying to this point Justice Harlan said: "Apart from the view that it is not competent for the judiciary to make any declaration upon the question of the length of time during which Cuba may be rightfully occupied and controlled by the United States in order to effect its pacification—it being the function of the political branch of the government to determine when such occupation and control shall cease and therefore when the troops of the United States shall be withdrawn from Cuba—the contention that the United States recognized the existence of an established government known as the republic of Cuba, but is now using its military or executive power to displace or overthrow it, is without merit. The declaration by congress that the people of Cuba were and of right ought to be free and independent, was not intended as a recognition of the existence of an organized government instituted by the people of that island in hostility to the government maintained by Spain. Nothing more was intended than to express the thought that the Cubans were entitled to enjoy—to use the language of the president in his message of December 5, 1898—that measure of self control which is the inalienable right of man, protected in their right to reap the benefit of the exhaustless treasure of their country."

Both the legislative and executive branches concurred in not recognizing the existence of any such government as the republic of Cuba. It is true that the cooperation of the troops commanded by Gen. Gomez was accepted by the military authorities of the United States in its efforts to overthrow Spanish authority in Cuba. Yet from the beginning to the end of the war, the supreme authority in all military operations in Cuba and on Cuban waters against Spain was with the United States and the operations were not in any sense under the control or direction of the troops commanded by Cuban officers.

The final conclusion of the court was announced as follows: "Writs of the prisoner and the reasons stated that the act of June 6, 1900, is not in violation of the Constitution of the United States and that this case comes within the provisions of that act. The court believes it to be clear that there was probable cause to believe the appellant guilty of the offense charged, the crime [illegible] and no ground existed for his discharge on habeas corpus. The judgment of the circuit court is therefore affirmed."

DELGAO CAPTURED.

End of Organized Armed Resistance in Iloilo Province.

Washington, Jan. 14.—General MacArthur has telegraphed the war department as follows: [illegible] province. Papay surrendered January 11 to Brig. General Robert P. Hughes, with four officers, 21 men and 41 rifles. His command was scattered. Other surrenders are expected during the next [illegible] days. [illegible] organized armed resistance Iloilo province. Panay."

The dispatch gave much satisfaction to the war department although the command surrendered was not a large one. It also was [illegible] that the assurances were for the end of "organized resistance," indicating that there was considerable of the unorganized marauding still in progress.

THE PATERSON CRIME

Trial of Jennie Bosschieter's Murderers Was Begun in the Passaic County Court.

New York, Jan. 14.—The trial of Walter T. McAllister, Andrew Campbell and William A. Beath, three of the four men accused of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, a mill girl of Paterson, N. J., under circumstances revolting in their utter lack of humaneness, commenced today before Judge Dixon in the Passaic county court of over and terminer. George J. Kerr, the fourth man under indictment, was not in court today, as he had been granted a separate trial on the ground that he was not present when the fatal dose was administered to the girl.

Before the trial was begun it was expected that at least two days would be necessary to complete the jury, but Judge Dixon carried on the proceedings with such vigor that within one hour after the court was called to order he had empaneled his 12 jurors and heard the opening lines of the address of the prosecuting attorney. The remainder of the day was taken up with the testimony of the principal witnesses in the case, [illegible] closed. Mrs. Nina Bosschieter, the mother of the unfortunate girl, was one, her daughter Susie another; Christopher Seale, the proprietor of the saloon where it is alleged the drug was administered to the girl, was the third, and Gus Schulthorpe, the hack driver of the midnight ride, was the last. Mother and daughter told of Jennie's life at home and at the mill. Schulthorpe, in his crude, unvarnished way, told to the minutest detail the story of the crime. He graphically described the taking of the almost unconscious girl from the saloon to his carriage, and of the ride to the country and the unspeakable crime committed on the dead, or almost dead, girl. He [illegible]

Apparently little beside the murder case was on the minds of Paterson people today and the little court house was surrounded all day by a great crowd of people trying to get in. A number of women were present.

JEFFRIES-RUHLIN FIGHT.

Several Governors Say They Will Oppose Fights in Their States.

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 14.—Fifteen minutes after Governor Stanley was sworn into office for his second term today a telegram from a Cincinnati paper was placed in his hands as follows:

"Please wire us whether you would allow Jeffries and Ruhlin to fight a limited fight if prevented here."

To this the governor wrote the following reply:

"There will be no prize fight in Kansas while I am governor."

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 14.—Governor Van Sant today received a telegram from a Cincinnati paper asking if the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight could be pulled off in Minnesota if it was stopped in Ohio. He replied as follows:

"Jeffries and Ruhlin will not be allowed to fight in Minnesota. No prize fight in state while I am governor."

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 14.—Governor Sanford wired Cincinnati today in response to a query that he would not allow the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight to take place in Alabama.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 14.—President Kinnane and Matchmaker Sullivan of the Phoenix Athletic association of this city announced that negotiations are on with W. A. Brady and Billy Madden respectively managers of Jeffries and Ruhlin with a view of securing the contest between the heavyweights in event of the contest being declared off by the Saengerfest association of Cincinnati.

She will not be accompanied by any member of her own family. Her health is now completely restored and she desires to visit her late husband's mother, who is 80 years old. Baroness von Ketteler has received several personal letters from the emperor of Germany and Count von Bueiow expressing sympathy for her in her bereavement. The Emperor said he hoped soon to welcome the baroness to "her country." She may reside in Germany.

SCOFIELD MINERS STRIKE

Salt Lake, Jan. 14.—A special to the Tribune from Scofield, Utah, says that 500 coal miners went out on a strike today for increased wages. There is no intimation as to what the managers of the mines will do.

It was at Scofield that the disastrous explosion occured last May. This is the first mining strike in the history of Utah.

UTAH LEGISLATURE.

Salt Lake, Jan. 14.—The fourth session of the Utah legislature convened and organized today by the election of A. J. Evans president of the senate, and William Glassman speaker of the house. The two houses will meet in joint session at 2 o'clock tomorrow to listen to the reading of the governor's message. The law provides that the first ballot for the United States senator shall be taken on January 22 and it is not likely that much legislation will be undertaken until the senatorial question is disposed of.

LIVE STOCK MEETING

Salt Lake Ready to Welcome Convention Delegates.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING SURE

Large Delegation Present from Chicago and Other Eastern Points and Nearly All Western Stockmen.

Salt Lake, Jan. 14.—Everything is in readiness for the fourth annual convention of the National Live Stock association which opens in the assembly hall at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The hall has been gorgeously decorated and every convenience provided for the delegates and members of the press. The indications are that it will be the most successful convention in the history of the association. The headquarters of the association and the principal hotels are thronged with visitors tonight. A large number of delegates arrived during the day. The attendance will be further augmented by those who are to arrive tonight and on the early trains tomorrow morning. It is safe to say that nearly every prominent stockman west of the Missouri river will be present by tomorrow morning.

A large delegation is present from Chicago and a fair attendance from other points east of the Missouri river.

The famous Pueblo Cowboy band arrived this afternoon and was met at the depot by the local committee and escorted through the principal streets of the city.

The executive committee of the association held a meeting this afternoon and discussed in a general way the subjects to be taken up by the convention. Secretary Martin's report was read and adopted.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS

Three Important Joint Memorials Were Introduced---Hollenbeck's Remarks.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Jan. 14.—The third week of the work in the house was begun promptly on time.

Dulavy of Las Animas started the work by introducing a motion to the effect that the committee on rules be instructed to amend the present rules so that a committee on constitutional amendments will be provided for. It will be remembered that this committee was killed during the fight over the rules last week. The motion was adopted and the rules committee was directed to prepare the amendment.

Three joint memorials were introduced.

The first was introduced by Mr. Harris and petitions congress to defeat the Grout bill.

The second was introduced by Speaker Montgomery and petitions congress to defeat the ship subsidy bill.

The third was introduced by Mr. Chisholm and petitions congress to provide irrigation for the arid lands.

The memorial of Mr. Harris cites the fact that the Grout bill as introduced precludes a tax on oleomargarine which would materially increase the price of butter and thus effect a hardship on the poor.

Mr. Montgomery's memorial concerning the ship subsidy bill cites that this bill would not restore our commerce. The memorial states that we have not lost our carrying trade for the want of subsidy but from a mistaken change of shipping policy." The memorial states that the measure proposed is fatally defective in proposing not to disturb the present policy under which our shipping interest has been ruined by unrestricted foreign competition. The memorial says if American shipping can not be restored without the payment of subsidies it would show to the world a most shameful exhibition of unskillfulness and incompetency on the part of our government.

On motion of Mr. Sprague the senatorial caucus was given permission to meet in the house tonight.

The house then went into committee of the whole and considered the house appropriation bill, and recommended that it be referred to the committee on constitution and revision for enrollment and engrossment and then put upon its passage.

The committees recommended that a number of bills be printed and it was so ordered.

A motion to adjourn until 11:30 tomorrow by Cannon brought forth a protest from Hollenbeck of El Paso. Mr. Hollenbeck stated that he could not understand why so much time had to be wasted at the beginning of the session when all knew that at the last many important bills would be lost because of lack of time. Mr. Hollenbeck felt that the policy of losing every other half day was not right and he wanted to get to work.

The senatorial caucus however, is the principal event now and the members felt that the different headquarters needed their presence so the motion to adjourn until 11:30 tomorrow prevailed.

A few bills were introduced in the house as follows:

Bell.—Providing for the establishment of a department of banks and public accounts.

Burwell.—To re-establish the southern boundary line of the state.

Burwell.—Preventing treating in saloons and other public places.

THE NEW CONGRESSIONAL APPORTIONMENT.

THE FRONT ACTION of the United States senate in passing the Burlington amendment [illegible] moves from national politics one important question as there is no probability that the president will do anything but sign the bill.

The bill as passed provides for a house of 356 members, [illegible] state is reduced in membership by the new bill, three states receive an increase of three each, three increase two each and fourteen states add one each to their present representation.

In case of new states the representatives for these will be added to the number provided in the bill.

The number of votes in the next electoral college will be equal to the number of representatives and senators of [illegible] which it will require 239 to secure an election.

In the following tables are shown the present electoral vote and the electoral vote under the new law, the number for each state being two more than the number of representatives in congress.

McKinley States	New	Old	Inc.
California	10	9	1

It will be noticed that the increase in the McKinley states is 19 while the increase in the Bryan states is 10. The percentage of increase for the two groups is almost the same for the McKinley states [illegible] for the Bryan states 6.45 per cent. It does not appear therefore that any party can derive any superior satisfaction from the new condition of apportionment or that it alters the national political situation in any important way.

Sectionally the increase is evenly distributed: the west gets 5, the center 6, the south 8 and the east 10.

The relative strength of the big states in national politics does not appear to be shaken. New York gains 2 and the 36 votes in the electoral college are more than were ever before cast by a single state. Pennsylvania gains two, Illinois three and New Jersey two. At the same time it should be remembered that the proportional increase in the larger states is less than in some small ones. Colorado's representative increases her congressional representation 60 per cent and her electoral vote 25 per cent, while New York with three additional electors only gains one twelfth.

It is evident that the new bill is eminently fair and reasonable. No injustice has been done to any state and no [illegible] advantage given to any party. The result seems to be accepted with general approval and is in distinct contrast with the chorus of disapproval that would have resulted from the passage of the Hopkins bill as adopted by the house committee on census.

PROSPECTING ON RESERVATIONS.

A VERY IMPORTANT announcement comes from Washington to the effect that an amendment to the Indian appropriation bill may give prospectors the right of entry upon Indian reservations. This important departure from the past policy of the government will arouse vigorous interest in the western states and territories where [illegible] will be watched with the very earnest hope that no dangerous [illegible] may be made.

In the past [illegible] efforts on the part of the interior and war departments to keep the prospectors out of Indian reservations, either while it has frequently [illegible] that those stores of mineral wealth have brought about removal of Indians that was [illegible] unnecessary.

The [illegible] government [illegible] treat the Indians [illegible] as irresponsible human beings instead of [illegible] them alternately as friends and wards of the government. It is in accord with such sentiment [illegible] who is the real [illegible].

The admission of prospectors to the reservations under such restrictions as the [illegible] may deem necessary to establish [illegible] constitutional [illegible] is and [illegible] to be found within the limits of the reservation.

THE GREATEST MAN OF THE CENTURY

According to a sermon preached in Colorado [illegible] the greatest man of this nineteenth century but if any one is of a different opinion there is no good reason why he should not think so.

It would be [illegible] of opinion and probably it is more difficult to select a single one than it is to choose from many different judgments of others and individual opinions differ to different persons.

Possibly it may be that there was some one who rose to mind immediately when the question was put but if we were to be asked to name the most beautiful of the flowers the choice would be [illegible] one. Men are grouped in different ways and they have different combinations of greatness. But it is seldom that one can be selected as a person in whom greatness centers as the rose is with the flowers. If however anyone believes that Gladstone is above the measure of all the other men of the century very many good reasons have been and can be brought forward in support of that belief.

WILD BEASTS AND WILD STORIES.

MR. ROOSEVELT has [illegible] sight of the railroads and [illegible] as the Gazette [illegible] already improving this opportunity.

In a recent morning's dispatches we are told for instance on the authority of a special from Meeker to the Times Herald of Chicago how the lion springs from his perch on and the governor fired at the animal hitting him fairly while in the air and saving Dr. Webb from probable serious injury.

It is a thrilling story which might have been taken almost word for word from the adventures of Gerard the Lion Killer. It will be particularly enjoyable to the persons who are somewhat acquainted with the character and habits of the Rocky Mountain [illegible] which is usually reliable upon all matters not relating to the Philippines falls a victim to the prevailing malady and undertakes to describe in advance for the benefit of its readers the method in which the lion hunt will be conducted. Apparently its scribe has heard of the rabbit drive at Lamar and the following is his contribution to the literature of the Roosevelt hunt.

The big game hunt which Col. Roosevelt will participate in the coming six weeks in western Colorado is being planned on a prodigious scale. The ranchers of the country west of the great divide are so annoyed by bears and mountain lions that they propose to make an end of the beasts so far as possible at one stroke. An enormous corral is being built in Rio Blanco county which will have wire fences shaped like a funnel. Into this trap the wild animals are to be driven after a thorough beating up of the country by hunters and dogs. After the drive circus and menagerie agents are to have their choice of the game and those not desired for exhibition purposes will be slaughtered. The drive of the carnivorous animals from the mountain [illegible] probably will be but one of the entertaining features arranged for during the visit of the vice president elect. After this season of running down and killing wild beasts Col. Roosevelt will [illegible] for the exciting and dangerous work of presiding over the United States senate during the next four years.

The great Roosevelt hunt appears to be in all around success.

Roosevelt gets his vacation, Colorado gets plenty of free advertising and a hunting country, and the people of the west are in a fair way to secure a vast amount of amusement from it.

GAME AND FISH.

THE BIENNIAL REPORT of the Colorado game and fish commissioner gives many satisfactory indications that this important subject is receiving the attention it deserves. Within the past two years 6,455,000 trout fry have been placed in the public streams of this state and more has been done to secure an enforcement of the game laws than in any previous period.

The commissioner appears to be fairly well satisfied with the present law but makes some important recommendations for amendment. The number of deer that one person may kill in a season should be limited to one instead of two as at present, the number of duck to be killed in one day should be limited to twenty five instead of fifty, the spring shooting of ducks should be prohibited, the open season on doves should be shortened, every hunter should be required to procure a hunter's license [illegible] should also be required a license for professional guides.

The report gives a statement in regard to the Indian invasion of the state and declares that this custom is a most serious menace to the preservation of the game and quotes statements of settlers in Rio Blanco county that Indian Agent Myton himself is a violator of the Colorado game laws.

CUBAN SCHOOLS.

ONE OF THE most [illegible] indications of the Cuban capacity for self government [illegible] be found in the very notable increase in the Cuban schools since the lessening of the American occupation. The Cubans seem to have fallen to education very promptly and enthusiastically [illegible] to have made the most of the opportunities [illegible] extended to them.

It is to be hoped that the excellent progress that has been made during the American occupation [illegible] stand will be continued when the Cubans are left [illegible] with the direction of their affairs. Free schools are a very essential element in [illegible] and if the Cubans keep the schools [illegible] high standard in the [illegible] they will [illegible] toward insuring the permanency [illegible].

The character of some of the [illegible] Americans left in the Philippines is well illustrated by the record of the crimes of some of the [illegible] who have been [illegible] An effort will doubtless be made [illegible] and those false patriots who [illegible] in the [illegible] let alone but [illegible] again them.

It would be entertaining to [illegible] with these [illegible] there is [illegible] Tammany [illegible] Kansas [illegible] lands to lease [illegible] in the [illegible] to have a session [illegible] matter [illegible] the letter for the [illegible] There ought to do [illegible] state for [illegible] reference.

Monkeys and Their Language
(Chicago News.)

After living in the African wilds long enough to attain a practical knowledge of the subject R. L. Garner has prepared a book on Apes and Monkeys, Their Life and Language, which is in [illegible] popular as well particularly in view of the words which Mr. Garner says he has discovered in use among the apes, including the [illegible] though [illegible] the [illegible] of his discoveries [illegible] more technical treatise than this he still leaves enough [illegible] to make his readers wish there could have been more. The Unrewarded Braves
(Salt Lake Tribune.)

The Atlanta Constitution publishes this [illegible]

It is to be regretted that Admiral Hobson should not be relieved. His [illegible] was one of the most thrilling of the war and illustrates the heroism for which the [illegible] of the navy are noted. That the work was not as effective in result as expected in no way militated against the daring of the undertaking.

Simple justice demands that the case of Lieut. Hobson should be taken into consideration on the foregoing. The New York Sun in furious [illegible] Hobson, Clark of the Oregon, Victor Blue and the captain of the Sandoval have had no recognition or promotion simply because as the Sun avers the friends of Admiral Schley in congress have stood in the way and prevented the promotion of [illegible] who were due to the commanders in that marvelous fight off Santiago. The Sun believes in Rear Admiral Sampson. It does not believe in Schley. But no matter about the merits [illegible] it is a shame that every [illegible] should be so [illegible] to be given to the other officers of that fleet the old Sampson Schley controversy is interposed and the brave men get nothing. Certainly if any man ever on one occasion earned an admiral's title it was Clark of the Oregon. There were other lost souls fighters there as he probably but the condition of his ship showed that he every day and every minute was thinking that possibly that fleet might appear and that the utmost the Oregon was capable of doing would be required of her. So when the crisis came the Oregon ran by the Texas, ran by the Indiana, ran by the Iowa, overhauled and kept beside the Brooklyn and fired the final shot that drove the last of the Spanish fleet ashore. The best speed that Evans of the Iowa could get was ten knots an hour. The Oregon could run the speed of her trial trip and it was after she had made the voyage through the straits of Magellan and without being docked had taken her place in the line and piped and fell in the bellows for thirty six days and then came in at the close a moving terror of the sea. The chances are that except for that ship two at least of the Spanish ships would have gotten away. It was the Oregon really that [illegible] came to racing toward battle her 16½ knots an hour were plenty to keep up with the Brooklyn's 22.

Westward But More Slowly
(Springfield Republican.)

The center of population in the United States has moved westward during the past 10 years about 40 miles and southward about three miles. It was located in 1890 very near the town of Westport in southeastern Indiana. It is now found to be about seven miles southeast of Columbus in the same state and same section of the [illegible]

This is the smallest distance traveled by the center in any 10 years since the first census in 1790. The journey of this interesting little stranger is standing on the census map tells a whole story in itself of the general movement [illegible] have followed the first enumeration.

Year	Approximate Location (Miles)	Decade's Distance Westward
1790	23 miles east of Baltimore
1800	18 miles west of Baltimore	41
1810	40 miles northwest by west of Washington	[illegible]
1820	16 miles north of Woodstock, Va.	[illegible]
1830	10 miles southwest of Moorfield, West Virginia	9
1840	16 miles south of Clarksburg, West Virginia	50
1850	8 miles southeast of Parkersburg, W. Va.	[illegible]
1860	20 miles south of Chillicothe, O.	81
1870	45 miles southeast of Cincinnati	42
1880	8 miles southwest of Cincinnati	8
1890	11 miles east of Columbus, Ind.	45
1900	7 miles southeast of Columbus, Indiana	14

The exceptionally long distance traveled in the 10 years from 1850 to 1860 was due to the rush of people to the California gold fields, for in finding the county center of population 12 individuals in San Francisco would exert as much pressure on the central point as 3 [illegible] in Massachusetts. As the population center is still [illegible] the geographical center it follows that a smaller growth in the far west will weigh equally with a larger one in the Atlantic states in determining the center of today.

Here the present [illegible] movement of the population [illegible] since 1890 tells of an even less [illegible] than the growth of population in 1890 might appear. This arrest of the more decided tendency of population westward in the decade just ended is one of the most important and significant facts to be taken from the present census. The [illegible] of the country has [illegible] the first time [illegible] may be said outstripping the average in population growth. It has been a period of manufacturing rather than of general development and of [illegible] growth. The persistence with which the population in other climates [illegible] the parallel of 40 degrees north latitude as they [illegible] the extreme northern station [illegible] 100 years ago [illegible] minutes south of this parallel by a little in 1840 and again in 1890, but has otherwise moved within the extreme of latitude which [illegible] only of those who seek a warm climate in which to live and work.

our clearance sales are always such a success? The reason is this: It has been the custom of the house to make these sales twice a year. Consequently our stock is kept clean of all out-of-date goods. When these sales are advertised every customer knows that the goods are reliable and reliably priced. Last week's sale was a humdinger. This week we propose to make still further reductions through our stock. About 75 men's suits in sizes 33, 34 and 35 at half price. About 40 boys' long pant suits at half price. All suits marked in plain figures and every suit altered to fit. In most suits, sizes 36 to 42, one-third off.

Criminal Cases Set In the District Court

Both divisions of the district court convened yesterday for the January term.

Judges Cunningham and Seeds, the new occupants of the district bench for the Fourth district, began their duties with their new relation to the attorneys of the district and everything proceeded smoothly and pleasantly. Judge Seeds is to be the presiding judge in division 1 for the January term, this division having jurisdiction over the criminal business that is before the court. The civil docket will be tried in division 2 under Judge Cunningham.

E. L. Preston and A. D. Williams were appointed official court stenographers. Mr. Preston will work in division 1 and Mr. Williams in division 2 this term. Wallace Peck was appointed bailiff. He will be in division 2, a deputy sheriff officiating in No. 1.

The work of the day in the first division consisted in the arraigning of prisoners and in setting dates for their trials.

In the case of people vs. DeYoung, wherein the defendant is charged with burglary alleged to have been committed at the hardware store of Rudolph Heyse on November 1 last, defendant entered a plea of not guilty and his trial was set for 10 o'clock January 18.

The case of the People vs. Thomas Stewart alias Thomas Matthews, defendant, charged with the attempted rape upon one Margaret Nieley, is set for January 18.

People vs. Charles alias "Bo" Denty, resulting from the burglarizing of the residence of L. E. Sherman on November 13, will be tried January 19.

People vs. Grace Bennett, defendant, being charged with receiving stolen property from one Stilwell, will be heard on the 19th. The case is one of those resulting from the recent robbery of the Wells-Fargo Express company and the Santa Fe railway city office in Colorado Springs.

Three counts against William Myers and Charles F. Stilwell, charging larceny, will come up for trial January 26. Defendants are charged with having robbed the Wells-Fargo and Santa Fe local offices. They were in the employ of the Wells-Fargo people.

M. E. Biggs, charged with larceny as bailee, will be tried January 26.

People vs. F. C. Morse, charged with embezzlement, will be set later.

Chester F. Bentley, charged with fraudulent issue of stock, will be tried January 25.

The case of People vs. James Gobb, alias Gus Anderson, charged with stealing horses belonging to William Clark, will come up January 22.

Attempted Burglary Sunday Afternoon

An attempt was made last Sunday afternoon to rob the jewelry store of W. B. Young, 121 South Tejon street, and had it been for an accident there is no knowing how many dollars worth of valuable goods might have been taken. The thief entered the store late in the afternoon, about half past five and the only thing missing is a clock which was taken from the rear portion of the store.

There is a large amount of jewelry of different kinds on the work table near the window, in the back part of the store, and one pane of window glass was only held in place by four tacks. These were removed and the glass was taken out and placed on the ground in such a manner that it leaned against the side of the building directly under the window.

The thieves, or rather one of them, then reached his hand inside of the store with the purpose of taking anything that he could get. In reaching over he struck the pane of glass with his foot and it broke with a crash, which frightened the would-be robbers away. A gentleman in the tailor shop over the store heard the noise and looked out of the window in time to see two persons running down the alley. He did not get a good view of them and can not give a description of either. The only booty secured was one clock which is not of great value. The police are working on the case but as yet have made no arrests.

CITY HALL NOTES

The police department had a group photograph taken yesterday afternoon.

Jerry Hogan was tried on a charge of vagrancy in the court and was found guilty. He was fined $10 and costs and not being able to pay he was committed to jail.

W. J. Miles and Frank Shortloff were fined $2 and costs each in police court yesterday morning on charges of drunkenness. Both paid their fines.

Charles King was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness and was committed to jail upon the non-payment of his fine.

JUSTICE COURTS

The case of Swift vs. Stanley came up for trial in Judge McClellan's court yesterday morning and was continued till the 21st of the month.

In the case of Hill et al. vs. Minford yesterday morning Judge McClellan rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff.

The case of Marsh vs. Robinson came up for trial in Justice McClellan's court yesterday afternoon. The garnishee paid the money demanded into the court and was discharged. The defendant claimed redemption and it was granted.

The case of Giles vs. McGregor was decided in favor of the plaintiff by Judge McClellan yesterday afternoon.

BRIEF MENTION ITEMS

BASEBALL SUGGESTION—"Park" Wilson, the famous catcher of the New York team, has bought a half interest in the Pueblo team for the coming year and proposes to put it in the Western association as a winner. It has been suggested that if it can possibly be done some of the games be scheduled for Colorado Springs. Our people have had so many exhibition games that they will not patronize them any more, but with schedule games undoubtedly there would be money in it. Wilson began his ball career with a Colorado Springs team eleven years ago.

REVIVAL SERVICES—Revival services are being held at the First Baptist church all of this week excepting Saturday. Rev. Joshua Gravlit, formerly of the Moody school, is assisting the pastor. There is Bible study at 2:30 every afternoon and sermon in the evening at 7:30. The subject this afternoon is "Revivals, Ancient and Modern." This evening the subject is "The Conversion of Cornelius." Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a children's meeting and Thursday evening at 7:30 a Christian Endeavor meeting.

A RUMOR—There was a rumor going the rounds that Anthony Sneve, general freight agent, and W. H. Bailey, general passenger agent of the Midland road had tendered their resignations yesterday. It is not confirmed but is a thing that is anticipated considering the changes that have recently been made.

Chamber Music Concerts.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock Mr. Rubin Goldmark and Miss Lucile Du Pre will give the first of a series of three chamber concerts. This series is devoted entirely to modern music, and at tomorrow's concert only the French school will be represented. Two sonatas that have a world wide reputation among musicians, by Cesar Franck and Gabriel Faure will be performed. A group of French songs will also be rendered. Miss Du Pre played these sonatas in Denver last season with great success and she has been rehearsing with Mr. Goldmark at various intervals during the entire winter. These concerts are expected so far as the rendition is concerned to be the equal of any yet given here. Subscription price for the three concerts has been placed at $2. Tickets may be obtained at the Hext Music company, the Knight-Campbell Music company and The Coburn Library. Single admissions $1.

COMMISSIONERS HAVE A CONTRACT TO CONSIDER

The county commissioners will take up upon their return to the city tomorrow (Thursday), the question of awarding a contract for the completion of some abstract work that has been under way for several months heretofore without any specific contract.

The board of county commissioners which went out of existence when the term of Mr Sinton expired passed a resolution to the effect that the contract for the performance of this work should be let to Charles P. Quinlan for the sum of $2,500. Quinlan has been engaged in the work for some time with [illegible] and it was his contract for the whole job in the hands of anyone.

The board that [illegible] with the exception of Mr Sinton passed the resolution referred to, by Mr. Sinton asking Mr. Doran if the resolution was all right and by his signing it upon the statement of Mr. Doran that such was the case. Mr Quinlan was present and was pushing the resolution in the board as rapidly as possible in order that it might be signed by Mr Sinton before the expiration of his term of office. Mr. Sinton signed the paper when he had yet but 30 seconds to act as county commissioner.

There was no objection to the proceeding on the part of Mr Greenway, the Republican member, because he wished to be recorded as voting for the resolution in order that at a subsequent meeting of the board he might be qualified to move a reconsideration of the resolution. It is expected that at the meeting of the board which will be held upon its return to the city, a motion to reconsider will be made by Mr. Greenway and the chances are regarded as favorable for the passage of the motion and the awarding of the contract to some other person, there being before the board at the present time, now and for some time past, a proposition on the part of a well known abstract office expert to perform the work called for by the proposed contract for $500 less money than it was the purpose of the old board to pay Mr. Quinlan for the same.

The work in question is the completing of a list of El Paso county property that will show who was the last owner of each and every parcel of ground in the county according to the abstracts. There has been for a long time in the past an enormous amount of inconvenience and needless expense in the conduct of the work of the assessor's office, because of the lack of such a list of properties as it is proposed to make. The property in the vicinity of Woodland Park and Palmer Lake is in particularly bad shape so far as the assessor's records are concerned and this is no fault of the assessor.

The completion of the list which is to be made under the contract referred to will probably require a year's time. Mr. Quinlan planned to employ assistance on the job and put it through in good shape, but there seems to be considerable doubt just at present as to whether he or another will secure the contract.

WOODLAND PARK MURDER

Under Sheriff Fitts received a telegram late last evening from Woodland Park announcing that there had been a murder at that place. It was stated that the news came and arrest the murderer and bring the coroner.

Woodland Park is right on the county line and Mr. Fitts thought it a Teller county case. Later he was able to learn that it was in El Paso county. He left on the Midland last night with a deputy coroner, as Mr. Law is sick.

Efforts were made to get some information from Woodland Park last evening but without success.

On tomorrow evening the patrons of the Opera house will witness the presentation of "Why Smith Left Home," one of the big hits from the pen of George H. Broadhurst, who came into prominence through "What Happened to Jones."

George H. Broadhurst's determination to write a play was brought about in rather an unusual manner. While he was managing the Bush street theater, San Francisco, Bronson Howard happened into the theater and requested that the usual courtesies be extended him. The conversation between Broadhurst and Howard veered to E. H. Sothern's production of "The Master of Woodbarrow," which at the time was being done at the Baldwin theater. Broadhurst ventured the opinion that one scene in Sothern's play was too prolonged, and being asked his reason by Mr. Howard for so thinking he replied that the audience began to rustle their programmes and to move uneasily in their seats.

"That," said Mr. Howard, "is an infallible sign, and I always look out for it." The conversation between Broadhurst and Howard was quite a long one. At its conclusion Mr. Howard said, "You ought to write a play." The seed probably took deeper root than he expected.

He did try, and the result was "The Speculator," after which he wrote "The Wrong Mr. Wright," and "What Happened to Jones," and "Why Smith Left Home," the latter being a huge success on both sides of the Atlantic. He has lately produced another successful farce, "The House That Jack Built."

Itchiness comes in many forms.

Eczema and horrid itching piles.

Relief and cure are here at last.

Colorado Springs has put it to the test.

Doan's Ointment cures every form of itchiness of the skin.

People at home are learning that this is so.

Here is a proof in a citizen's statement.

Mr. E. H. Downer of 519 South Cascade avenue, says: "Itching hemorrhoids annoyed me for 20 years and for at least 10 years were chronic. I was never free from misery and do what I liked I was unable to obtain relief. Now, when Doan's Ointment procured at Jones & Wellington's drug store, 109 N. Tejon st., so greatly benefited an old and stubborn case of hemorrhoids like mine, I conscientiously believe that in the earlier stages the treatment will prove invincible. I never received as much benefit for any remedy I ever used."

Mrs. Ed. Eaton has moved her household effects to Idaho, where Mr. Eaton [illegible] Some two years or more ago Mr. Eaton was injured in a wreck and has not recovered from the effects of the shock. The quiet of a ranch is much better for him than the noise of a city so he has decided to make his home in the country.

It was rumored in this city yesterday that Glasstown had been sold, but the story could not be confirmed yesterday nor could it be learned to whom the property was sold. It was said that the new road had purchased it and would build their shops there; but that is not true, as that company will build their shops in this city. There is very little doubt that the old Glasstown has been sold, houses and all, and the particulars will probably be learned in a short time.

The Millmen's union No. 1 met Saturday night to discuss the labor situation at the mills in this city. The meeting was secret and just what attitude was taken could not be learned yesterday, although it is thought by those who are well acquainted with the feeling which the men have against their employers that some decided action was taken. The principal grievance that the men have is the raise in wages, as it is called. The men are obliged to work 10 hours instead of eight and get $2 instead of $1.80, this being 10 cents an hour for the extra two hours. A number of men have been discharged lately and this is another bone that the men have to pick with the management of the mill.

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known to be caused by germs and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth soft skin free from all eruptions the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time but cannot remove permanently the unsightly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion

"It may be of some benefit to certain people but why not let it be as it is. The Midas manages to scratch along on a capitalization of $20,000 and the Tucker is satisfied with a capitalization of only $150,000."

"I Told You So"

Late in December, 1900, I stated in my advertisements that Cripple Creek stocks were at bed rock, and predicted that a general advance would begin early in 1901.

It is yet early in 1901, but the predicted advance has occurred. A general advance began January 2nd, and is still under way, as a comparison of prices will readily show.

Another Prediction

This upward movement will continue, and prices of good stocks will reach a higher range than at any time in their previous history.

My Advice

Is to buy all good stocks at once, and get the full benefit of this advance.

While selecting stocks for purchase, investigate the merits of Zoe, Lucrative and St. Thomas. I am certain these stocks will show strong advances, as the properties they represent are steadily improving with development.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Jan. 14.—The market [illegible] this morning with fairly good trading, although prices were inclined to be irregular. The interest still centers among the cheaper stocks, and the pit call does a very large amount of business, showing that money is free and speculation rife. When there are all sorts of rumors of big profits one forgets the possibility of big losses, and prefers a low priced stock to a dividend payer. Elkton, however, although it was not traded in to the amount of a boxful lot on the first call of the day, holds up very well, and Portland, selling ex-dividend is fairly strong at $1.59. The most notable losses are those undergone by stocks which were very high on the [illegible] week. Otherwise the market is in a very satisfactory condition.

In the afternoon the trading was quite brisk although not quite so heavy as it was last week, and prices were practically [illegible]. Zeltyn was traded and sold at $1.89, but El Paso sold and was offered at the close at $1. Isabella, on the other hand, sold up to 70. Alert was a good trader at 10 cents, a low price. Colorado advanced fractionally and Commonwealth was strong at 10¼, owing to a favorable showing on the property, while Missouri sold up to 6. C. K. and N. sold at 3¾ and Ernestine at 3¾. Sedan went up again and closed at 13¼, while Shannon was very strong at [illegible] to be very encouraging. Pointer, in the mines list, gained fractionally to 16⅝, but Pharmacist sold down to 8. St. Thomas, in the pit call, sold up to 9 and Zoe closed at 16.

The Metal Market.

New York, Jan. 14.—A slow and uninteresting market for metals in local circles was experienced again today. Speculation was conspicuous by its absence and trading was of a hand to mouth character. The close was dull here, at $26.25. A small jobbing business was done in pig lead at $4.37½, but the trend of prices was downward in sympathy with foreign markets. Spelter dull $4.10@4.15. Copper very dull and nominally quoted at $17 for lake and $16.50 for casting and electrolytic, despite lower prices abroad. Domestic iron markets were extremely dull with quotations largely nominal at any figure. Pig iron warrants $9.50@10.50. Northern foundry $15@15.50. Southern foundry $14.50@15.75 and soft southern $13@15.75. English markets were weak and still declining. Glasgow closed at 54s 7½d and Middlesboro at 46s. 4½d.

THE MARKET IRREGULAR

Contest Between Speculative Forces Yesterday By No Means Conclusive.

SOME POINTS OF STRENGTH

But the Market Gave Unmistakable Evidence of a Decline in the Speculative Furore.

New York, Jan. 14.—The currents in today's stock market were exceedingly confusing and irregular, and the contest between speculative forces was by no means conclusive. There was a very large amount of speculative liquidation accomplished and there were periods of acute and general weakness. Some of the recently prominent stocks in the advance suffered from material setbacks. On the other hand there were stocks which showed strength throughout the session. The selling movement showed symptoms of having largely expended itself during the [illegible] and there were signs of renewed aggressiveness on the part of the bull interests and the bull market rallied throughout from the midday low level. New stocks came into the leadership and there were indications that the personality of the leaders of the speculation had also undergone some change. The brokers who were the largest sellers in the railroad list were very heavy buyers of some of the steel stocks and it was evident that an attempt was to be made to conduct a double campaign in the market on the bear side in some of the railroads and on the bull side in the steel stocks. The market closed with some notable advances scored in the steel group and with renewed weakness among the specialties, some of the latter two classes selling at the lowest on the last sales.

There were points of strength during the day in the railroad list and amongst quite a number of the stocks not usually conspicuous in the trading. But these points of strength were the exceptions in the market although they had an effect in rallying other stocks and in largely reducing the average net losses. The market gave unmistakable evidence of a decline in the speculative furore and a disposition to revise the more sanguine estimates of the high price already attained for many stocks and those expected for others. Disappointment was keenly manifest among the holders of St. Paul over the failure of confirmation of the many stories of a lease to the Northern Pacific, now pretty thoroughly discredited.

The other grangers were weak, apparently in sympathy.

There is no fear that any scarcity of money will result from the conviction that a considerable sum of money will go out and that the movement will be inaugurated on Wednesday, but the movement creates some inevitable disquiet among over extended speculative interests.

U. S. bonds were all unchanged.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Wheat of the bullishness which manifested itself near the close Saturday there was still enough left to cause wheat to ignore the bearishness of later developments. May opened ¼ lower to ¼ higher at 77¾ to ⅞ and on buying by commission houses and shorts rallied during the first hour to 78¾. Cables were indifferent, northwest receipts heavy and [illegible] The immensity of these shipments, however, and the visible increase of 600,000 bushels announced later had been pretty well discounted. On the bulge the demand fell off and offerings which early had been rather light, increased. Towards the end of the session it dropped to 77¼. The close was weak, May ¼@⅜ lower at 77½@77¾. Corn was narrow and dull.

Oats were quiet and steady.

Provisions were moderately active and strong on a good cash demand.

The London Market.

New York, Jan. 14. Commercial Advertiser's London financial cables say:

The markets here were quiet today, pre-occupied with the settlement. Americans were weak on fears in connection with the recent Westralian collapse which it is estimated has caused a direct loss of £2,500,000 to the stock exchange. The market was also affected by the stiffness of contangoes, 6 to 6½. Business was slack and the close was weak on the absence of the New York support. Money rates were unaltered.

PAN AMERICAN EXPOSITION DECORATIVE SCULPTURE

IT LOOKS like a snap shot taken of Mount Olympus on a reception day, but it is only a glimpse of the gods and goddesses for the Pan-American in winter quarters. Refer to the accompanying view of the group of statues [illegible] allegorical subjects which may be seen at one end of the great Machinery and Transportation building on the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

Generally speaking, the great architectural effects of the Exposition are achieved about the two great bordering courts, the Esplanade and Court of Fountains [illegible] court at any previous exposition, and here, naturally, the greatest efforts will be made in the way of sculptural adornment.

The formal entrance to the Exposition grounds is from the south through a boulevard known as Lincoln Parkway. After passing within the gate on this side of the grounds one comes first to the noble Albright gallery in white marble in the Greek Ionic style and the New York State building. Just beyond them, as the visitor follows the winding roadway through this portion of the grounds, he comes out upon a broad avenue upon either side of which are formerly planted [illegible] and rows of rose hedges. We are now in the "approaches," and beyond is a still wider space known as the Fore Court. This has been treated with terraces, steps, balustrades, vases of flowers and tree planting which recall the Luxembourg gardens in Paris. From here one passes upon the Triumphal Bridge and is ushered into the midst of the Exposition in all its beauty. The idea is to lead the visitor gradually into the presence of the Rainbow City, until he reaches the eminence overlooking the transverse court, where the whole scene in all its grandeur will break upon his delighted vision. Sculptural, architectural and landscape effects will thus be brought into play to create the most pleasing impression possible. The Triumphal Bridge itself will be a stately structure embellished with sculpture in staff by foremost sculptors. Looking from this bridge to the north across the Esplanade and Court of Fountains, one sees looming up at the far end of the vista at a distance of about a third of a mile the Electric Tower, which has now reached its total height of 375 feet.

The whole area between the Tower and the tower will next summer be a scene of transcendent beauty because of the combination of superb architecture, nobly conceived and executed sculptural groups, landscape and hydraulic fountain effects to enhance the beauty of both buildings and sculpture, and at night glorious electrical illuminations. From the Ecclesia to the Tower there will be a succession of marvelous sculptural groups and superb figures all expressing some idea in symbolic form. The whole sculptural scheme has been planned out by the director of sculpture, Mr. Karl Ritter, with a view to emphasizing in those beautiful forms of artistic genius the meaning and grandeur of the achievements made by the people forming in this great assemblage of the peoples of the new world.

In speaking in detail of this sculpture and showing how the symbolic scheme is to be carried out in the various portions of the grounds, let me describe first the grand formal entrance to the transverse court, the Triumphal Bridge, which will be the most imposing structure ever designed for a similar purpose and, it is believed, will surpass in its beauty even the famous Alexandre [illegible] of the Exposition of 1900. The majestic aspect of the four monumental piers each 100 feet in height, supporting the cables of the bridge, will complement and balance in a way the height and commanding stateliness of the Electric Tower. The four groups of colossal figures, each fully 50 feet in height, representing the four great divisions of the Exposition, namely, Industry, Commerce, Transportation and Agriculture, are from the chisels of Messrs. Daniel Chester French, Herbert Adams, Frederick W. Ruckstuhl and Charles Lamb. In conceiving and carrying out the plan adopted for the Exposition sculpture Mr. Ritter has shown a grasp of the possibilities afforded by the occasion which marks him as possessing a creative genius.

In the case of exposition sculpture, of course, a great deal depends in securing effectiveness on the arrangement adopted and the execution of various details. A lack of artistic sense and good judgment in this part of the work would spoil the productions of the sculptor's studios. Fortunately, this work has been under the supervision of men of such fine artistic taste as well as broad architectural training as Mr. John M. Carrere, chairman of the board of architects, and his immediate representative on the Exposition grounds, Mr. W. W. Bosworth. They have at all times had the hearty co-operation of the director of works, Mr. Newcomb Carlton, while the director general of the Exposition, the Hon. William I. Buchanan, has from the first been [illegible] work a great feature of the Exposition, thus realizing a high artistic ideal. As a result of all this it is not too much to say that the creations of these sculptors of the new world for the adornment of the buildings and grounds of this first exposition of all the Americas will win the distinction of being the greatest achievement in the sculpture the age has seen.

The Price of Glasses

is of course not only dependent upon the kind of frame but as much upon the lenses, whether fitted for simple or compound cases. We believe our prices to be lower than any specialist's in the west, and no more than is charged in the east. Please remember, too, that a dollar pair of lenses properly fitted is cheaper than a five dollar pair improperly fitted.

We have the knowledge for doing it right.
